

Depending on the experience and age of the writer, encourage him or her to add one or two details in words.

Teacher: Students, which detail added the most meaning for you in this picture?

Allow time for several students to offer details.

Teacher: When you return to your pictures today, go back and decide how you can add one or two details to your picture and then to your writing.